Re: National Right to Work Legal Defense Foundation, Inc.'s request to extend period for submitting responsive comments to Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

Dear Mr. Taubman:

The Board received your February 6, 2023 letter on behalf of the National Right to Work Legal Defense Foundation, Inc. (NRWLDF) in which you requested an extension of the due date for filing responsive comments to the "Fair Choice and Employee Voice" Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FC-EV NPRM) that was published in the Federal Register on November 4, 2022 (87 FR 66890). You requested that the deadline for responsive comments be extended to March 20, 2023. The current due date for responsive comments is February 16, 2023.

Today, the Board announced that it is extending the deadline for submission of responsive comments. Responsive comments regarding the FC-EV NPRM must now be received by the NLRB on or before March 1, 2023. You can find the details at <https://www.nrlb.gov/news-outreach/news-story/nrlb-extends-reply-comment-period-on-proposed-fair-choice-and-employee>. Information about this extension is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register on Wednesday, February 15, 2023. The Board is extending the current deadline due to an administrative error that occurred within Regulations.gov that inadvertently allowed six comments to be filed on a closed NLRB rulemaking docket from 2018 instead of the 2022 FC-EV NPRM. These comments have now been moved to the correct rulemaking docket on Regulations.gov. In light of this extension, the NRWLDF's request is denied.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Roxanne L. Rothschild
